Competition For Justice Walls Trophy Starts Today

ALL-STARS IN FINE PRACTICE

Team as Selected Will Play in Big Game Next Monday

Edmonton all-stars, the team selected to play the Scotland F. A. in an exhibition game here Monday, June 27, at Renfrew Park, starting at 7 o'clock, had a wonderfully successful practice at the Y. M. C. A. Every member of the team picked by the council of the Edmonton District Football Association will be in uniform and ready for action in the forthcoming big match. There were a number of runners going the rounds to the effect that there would be a slight change, but according to the secretary of the Y. M. C. A., R. H. Stevenson, there will be no change. The boys all appeared to be in excellent condition and although they do not expect to win, they nevertheless are confident that they will provide the visitors with plenty of stiff opposition.

Rain is predicted for the automobiles will have to be parked on the grounds of the Donald Ross school and not near the park gates.

MORE ABOUT BASEBALL GAME

"Happy" Frisch Is Here

"Happy" Frisch has not announced his pitcher for the game tonight but it is altogether likely that he will use Stiffert, a mighty fine lefthander. The Ruston team will be McNasty, former catcher for Minneapolis in the American Association and rated to be one of the best now in western Canada.

Incidentally the Balmorals who are now on a barnstorming trip have been having many good games in Calgary and have been winning every time out. There is not any special reason why they should be dropped in a hurry here, but against the Belkines they will run up another high class opposition and while the local boys are not making any statement as to whether they will win or not they should not be counted out at least until after Saturday's double header.

Three Games
If the game is postponed on account of bad weather tonight, a doubleheader will be played Saturday and one more game on the following day.

BULLY SAYS

Two Unassisted Triple Plays

Horatio Jimenez, captain of the Chicago Cubs and Steve Bowman, John Nunn of the Detroit Tigers, completed the sixth and seventh unassisted triple plays respectively. They have been made in the majors.

Chicago's first came against Pittsburgh on Decoration Day. Nunn's following day against Cleveland. When the shortstop and second baseman held down the third base for catching such plays there is nothing unusual about the fact that five of the seven made in the majors are credited to such players.

George Hagen, while with Boston, was the first to make in the majors in 1915. He retired the side without help of his teammates. Burns, by the way, made his play against the present Chicago Indians.

Rich I happened to see the game in which Burns and Nunn made their plays. I will tell some of them later.

For an infielder to make such a play is absolutely essential that the first-infielder play be on and the batsman hit a line drive a few feet to the right or left of the bag.

If it so happens that the shortstop is covering second and the ball is hit to his side of the bag it puts him in a position to go through with the play after making the catch.

Lewie with the second baseman when the drive comes to his side of the bag.

With a play seems easier for the shortstop since he is better lined up to run down a man coming from first base.

As a rule, the perfect setting has run down on first and second, on one out, of course, and the hit-and-run play called for. That makes it perfect, once the fielder gets the play drive.

Bill Wambegham, playing second base for the Cubs, had the unusual distinction of making his triple play in a world series game.

Record of Frank Happonen
First unassisted triple play in 1905 and eleven years elapsed before another was made. The one at Bill Wambegham in the 1925 world series.

The feat was performed by 1925 by Burns and Homer Pugh of the Braves. Horatio Jimenez of the Indians turned the trick for the fifth time, and now come Conner and Nunn.

Lloyd Warner with a base hit and Barnhart with a base hit and a run for Conner who Paul Warner drove a liner through the box, striking a sure hit, that was arched for Conner.

It so happened that Conner had one foot on second just about the time the ball struck his mitt. That made two out. He ran up the line to touch Barnhart on as the latter charged from first.

Most triple plays are completed on quickly and unexpectedly that the crowd hardly has a chance to grasp what has actually happened until it is all over.

How Burns Did It
Getting back to Burns' unusual play, it was umpiring the game in that game and, as I recall it, Burns' triple was on first and Babe Stephenson, now with the Cubs, on second.

Burns got sure whether the batter would hit or not and he was playing in fairly close and the batter drove a terrific line, directly at Burns on the hit-and-run play.

Louder trying to get back to first slipped and was tagged out. Then he was a chase in first base and second. Both slid into the bag but Burns got the decision.

Nunn's play came with great on second and up close, into and eighth. Nunn's play was on first and second. Nunn's play was on first and second. Nunn's play was on first and second.

Two more plays by a first baseman will ever happen again as a play is not nearly so advantageous to pull them.

MARKETS, GRAIN, FINANCIAL

WEAKNESS IN WINNIPEG PIT

WINNIPEG, June 24.—Weakness which dominated the Winnipeg market at the opening was offset by moderate purchases which steadied prices before the close today. On the down trend, however, the board and continental connections were fair buyers and the market was wiped out. Profit-taking sales brought about another decline, the close being 1/2 to 1/4 cent lower. July 18 1/2, October 18 1/2 and December 18 1/2.

Grains grain and ground, with transactions on a cash basis, by James Richardson & Sons.
